Are you concerned about your child's or teen's behavior? Are classes or social activities difficult because they feel anxious or depressed?

Mental health symptoms for children and teens can vary widely, making it difficult to identify early-on. Concerns related to stigma, medications and treatments may also prevent parents from seeking care for their child or teen.

Join us to our FREE monthly Mental Health Support Group where parents and caregivers can have a safe and welcoming space to share the experiences of caring for a child or teen with any of these concerns.

Contact Olga Maldonado at omaldonado@supportforfamilies.org with any further questions.

This group is run in partnership with NAMI San Francisco. NAMI provides support, education, and advocacy for individuals and families living with mental illness.
