

I am going to visit the deYoung Museum in Golden Gate Park on Saturday. Part of the Museum looks like a big spaceship.

My family and I will get to explore the Museum and do some fun activities while we are there.

When we get to the museum we will be greeted at the entrance by the friendly security people who work there.

If I have a backpack they will ask me to hold it by my side. This is so no artwork will get damaged during my visit. Everyone is asked to do this...even adults!

When we get inside we will look for Support for Families table to check in.

In the Museum I should always walk. Running could hurt people or the things in the Museum.

In the Museum I will be asked to use an “inside” voice to talk to people in my group. In the Galleries I should use a Number 2, or Quiet Talking voice.

Noise Thermometer

5	Red voice = Yelling
4	Orange voice = Loud Talking
3	Yellow Voice = Normal Talking
2	Green Voice = Quiet Talking
1	Blue Voice = Whisper
0	Gray Voice = No Talking

I can do an art activity if I want. The activity table will be in the large room on the first floor.

This picture is the art activity I might want to do. I can choose their project or I can make one of my own. I can bring my art project home with me.

My family and I can go into the galleries if we like. Galleries are rooms where there is art or displays. There are 3 floors of galleries. We do not have to go into all of them. We can ask the staff to guide us to things we might like.

Most things in the Museum are not for touching.

Getting around the Museum we can take the stairs or elevator. If we take the elevator, we may have to wait for a few minutes, and it may be crowded inside.

It is also good for me to keep my feet on the ground while I am in the elevator.

If the Museum gets too loud, my family and I can find a quiet space on the 6th floor to sit and take a break. We have to take an elevator to get to the room.

We can also get snacks that are just for Support for Families. We can eat and drink in that room.

There is also a room on the 9th floor where I can look out at the green park and the sky in all directions. If it is a clear day I can see the ocean!

Another thing I can do if I want to take a break when I am at the museum is go to the Sculpture Garden outside the cafe. There is grass I can play on, and fun things to see there.

At the end of my visit I can be outside in Golden Gate Park, and maybe even spot one of the turtles in the pond right outside the Museum.
